What is this product?

AMUNDI Hang Seng HK 35 Index ETF (the “Sub-Fund”) is a sub-fund of AMUNDI ETF Series, which is an umbrella unit trust established under Hong Kong law. The units of the Sub-Fund (“Units”) are listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “SEHK”). These Units are traded on the SEHK like listed stocks. The Sub-Fund is a passively managed index tracking exchange traded fund under Chapter 8.6 of the Code on Unit Trusts and Mutual Funds (the “Code”).

Objective and investment strategy

Objective

The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to provide investment results that, before fees and expenses, closely correspond to the performance of the Hang Seng HK 35 (the “Index”).

Strategy

In seeking to achieve the Sub-Fund’s investment objective, the Manager currently uses a full replication strategy through investing directly in securities included in the Index in substantially the same weightings in which they are included in the Index. The Manager may also use a representative sampling strategy where it will invest, directly or indirectly, in a representative sample of the Securities in the Index that collectively reflects the investment characteristics of the Index. Investors should note that the Manager may switch between the replication and representative sampling strategies without notice to investors and in its absolute discretion.

The Sub-Fund may also invest in money market funds and in cash deposits for cash management purposes although such investments are not anticipated to exceed 5% of the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund.

Currently the Manager has no intention to invest the Sub-Fund in any financial derivative instruments (including structured products or instruments) for hedging or non-hedging (i.e. investment) purposes, and will not enter into securities lending transactions, sale and repurchase transactions, reverse repurchase transactions or other similar over-the-counter transactions. Where required, the Manager will seek the prior approval of the SFC and provide at least 1 month’s prior notice to Unitholders before the Manager engages in any such investments.

The investment strategy of the Sub-Fund is subject to the investment and borrowing restrictions set out in the Prospectus.

Index

The Index is a total return index which reflects the return from dividend reinvestment, and is free float adjusted market capitalisation weighted, with a 10% cap on individual constituent weightings. It includes the 35 largest SEHK listed companies with over 50% of their respective sales revenue derived from areas outside the PRC. The Index provides a tradable index reflecting large capitalised Hong Kong companies. Hang Seng Indexes Company Limited (the “Index Provider”) is responsible for the calculation and dissemination of the Index. The Manager (and each of its Connected Persons) is independent of the Index Provider. The inception date of the Index was 3 January 2000 and the Index had a base level of 2000 on 3 January 2000.

As at 29 December 2023, the Index had a total market value of HKD6,164 billion and 35 constituents.

The constituents of the Index and their respective weightings are published on HSI’s website at <https://www.hsi.com.hk/eng/resources-education/daily-reports> (this website has not been reviewed by the SFC).

Use of derivatives

The Sub-Fund will not use derivatives for any purpose.

What are the key risks?

Investment involves risks. Please refer to the Prospectus for details including the risk factors.

1. General investment risk

- The Sub-Fund's investment portfolio may fall in value due to any of the key risk factors below and therefore your investment in the Sub-Fund may suffer losses. There is no guarantee of the repayment of principal.

2. Equity market risk

- The Sub-Fund's investment in equity securities is subject to general market risks, whose value may fluctuate due to various factors, such as changes in investment sentiment, political and economic conditions and issuer-specific factors.

3. Concentration / Hong Kong market risks

- The Sub-Fund's investments are concentrated in Hong Kong. The value of the Sub-Fund may be more volatile than that of a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments. The value of the Sub-Fund may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the Hong Kong market.

4. Distributions out of or effectively out of capital risks

- Payment of dividends out of capital or effectively out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any such distributions may result in an immediate reduction in the Net Asset Value per Unit of the Sub-Fund.

5. RMB currency and conversion risks

- Investors in RMB traded Units whose assets and liabilities are predominantly in HKD or in currencies other than RMB should take into account the potential risk of loss arising from fluctuations in value between such currencies and RMB. There is no guarantee that RMB will appreciate in value against HKD or any other currency, or that the strength of RMB may not weaken. In such case an investor may enjoy a gain in RMB terms but suffer a loss when converting funds from RMB back into Hong Kong dollars (or any other currency).
- RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. Although offshore RMB (CNH) and onshore RMB (CNY) are the same currency, they trade at different rates. Any divergence between CNH and CNY may adversely impact investors in RMB traded Units.

6. Passive investments risk

- The Sub-Fund is passively managed and the Manager will not have the discretion to adapt to market changes due to the inherent investment nature of the Sub-Fund. Falls in the Index are expected to result in corresponding falls in the value of the Sub-Fund.

7. Tracking error risk

- The Sub-Fund may be subject to tracking error risk, which is the risk that its performance may not track that of the Index exactly. This tracking error may result from the investment strategy used and/or fees and expenses. The Manager will monitor and seek to manage such risk and minimise tracking error. There can be no assurance of exact or identical replication at any time of the performance of the Index.

8. Index-related risk

- There may be errors in Index data which may not be identified or corrected for a period of time. This may have an adverse impact on the Sub-Fund and Unitholders. The Index Provider may change the securities which comprise the Index from time to time and securities initially comprised in the Index may be delisted. The SFC may withdraw its authorisation of the Sub-Fund if it no longer considers the Index as acceptable.

9. Trading risks

- The trading price of Units on the SEHK is driven by market factors such as the demand and supply of Units. Therefore, the Units may trade at a substantial premium or discount to the Sub-Fund's Net Asset Value.
- As investors will pay certain charges (e.g. trading fees and brokerage fees) to buy or sell Units on the SEHK, investors may pay more than the Net Asset Value per Unit when buying Units on the SEHK, and may receive less than the Net Asset Value per Unit when selling Units on the SEHK.
- Units under the RMB counter are RMB-denominated securities traded on the SEHK and settled in CCASS. Not all stockbrokers or custodians may be ready and able to carry out trading and settlement of RMB-traded Units. The limited availability of RMB outside the PRC may also affect the liquidity and trading price of the RMB-traded Units.

10. Termination risks

- The Sub-Fund may be terminated early under certain circumstances, for example, where the Index is no longer available for benchmarking or if the size of the Sub-Fund falls below HKD100 million. Investors may not be able to recover their investments and suffer a loss when the Sub-Fund is terminated.

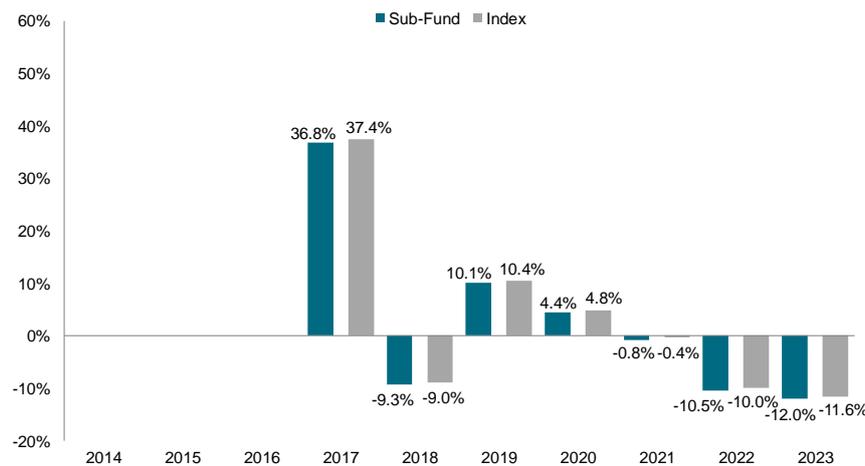

11. Reliance on market maker and liquidity risks

- Although the Manager will use its best endeavours to put in place arrangements so that at least one Market Maker will maintain a market for the Units traded in each counter, and that at least one Market Maker to each counter gives not less than 3 months' notice prior to terminating market making arrangement under the relevant market maker agreement, liquidity in the market for Units may be adversely affected if there is no or only one Market Maker for the RMB or HKD traded Units. There is also no guarantee that any market making activity will be effective.
- There may be less interest by potential Market Makers making a market in Units denominated and traded in RMB. Any disruption to the availability of RMB may adversely affect the capability of market makers in providing liquidity for Units.

12. Dual counter risks

- If there is a suspension of the inter-counter transfer of Units between the counters and/or any limitation on the level of services by brokers and CCASS participants, Unitholders will only be able to trade their Units in one counter only, which may inhibit or delay an investor's dealing. The market price of Units traded in each counter may deviate significantly. As such, investors may pay more or receive less when buying or selling Units traded in HKD on the SEHK than in respect of Units traded in RMB, and vice versa.

How has the fund performed?

- Past Performance information is not indicative of future performance. Investors may not get back the full amount invested.
- The computation of the performance is based on the calendar year end, NAV-to-NAV, with dividend reinvested.
- These figures show by how much the Sub-Fund increased or decreased in value during the calendar year being shown. Performance data has been calculated in HKD including ongoing charges and excluding your trading costs on SEHK.
- Where no past performance is shown there was insufficient data available in that year to provide performance.
- The Index of the Sub-Fund is "Hang Seng HK 35 Index"
- Fund launch date: 2016

Is there any guarantee?

The Sub-Fund does not have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

What are the fees and charges?

Please refer to the section entitled "Fees and Expenses" of the Prospectus for details of other fees and expenses.
