

Important Information

- The fund invests primarily in companies according to (1) their environmental ratings and (2) financial performance expectations, with a view to outperforming the MSCI World Index over the medium to long term.
- Investing in this fund may involve exposure to ESG investment policy risk, concentration risk as well as risk associated with small and medium companies-related investments. The use of financial derivative instruments for hedging purpose may subject to additional risks, including credit risk of the issuer, liquidity risk, counter party risk and valuation risk.
- As RMB is not freely convertible, the investment in RMB classes may be adversely affected by the fluctuation in the exchange rate between RMB and other foreign currencies and the liquidity of RMB at the relevant time. In case of sizable redemption requests for the RMB classes, the Manager has the absolute discretion to delay any payment of redemption requests from the RMB classes.
- For Distribution classes, the Manager may at its discretion determine to pay dividends out of income or capital of the fund. In addition, the Manager may at its discretion pay dividends out of gross income while charging / paying all or part of the fund's fees and expenses to/out the capital of the fund, resulting in an increase in distributable income for the payment of dividends by the fund, in which case, the fund is effectively paying dividends out of capital. Payment of dividends out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distributions may result in an immediate reduction in the net asset value per unit of the fund.
- The value of the fund can be volatile and the fund may suffer substantial loss.
- Investors should not only base on this marketing material alone to make investment decisions.

Amundi HK - Green Planet Fund

An all-rounded approach to seize the “green” opportunities

Why Amundi HK - Green Planet Fund?

1 ESG investment is growing in significance

According to Morningstar, the inflows into ESG assets had already doubled up from 2019 to 2021 while inflows into Environmental sector saw the strongest flows in comparison with other segments (Social and Governance) in 2021.

2 ESG equities show their resilience in market volatilities

During periods of heightened market volatility, ESG investments managed to generate market rate or even excess returns when compared to traditional equity investments while providing downside protection for investors during economic crisis.

3 A well-diversified portfolio while being sector and country neutral

Using a combination of qualitative and quantitative approach: We believe that being sector/country neutral is the cleanest way to construct a global portfolio that seeks to add value from only security selection and not from sector or country selection.
